Arcplace welcomes their 200th customer

The specialist for scanning, archiving and backup solutions reports on five successful years in the market, about current trends and new services.

Zurich, 29th September 2011

Arcplace AG, a Swiss specialist in scanning, archiving and backup solutions, welcomes its 200th client and takes a look at its successful first five years in business.

“We are happy with every new client and have learned that no customer or project is alike. This is what has made the past five years since we started the business so exciting”, says Robbert Spierings, Managing Director of Arcplace AG. “We are looking forward to many more exciting projects and constructive collaborations with our clients and partners”.

Since the foundation of the company in 2006, Arcplace has expanded its business from pure digital archiving to a broad solution and services portfolio helping clients to better manage, protect and archive their information.

During the last five years Arcplace has recorded continuous growth. Since the beginning of 2011 the company has seen an accelerated growth in the number of clients. This is thanks to the launch of new Cloud Backup and Archiving Services which is distributed through a network of specialized IT resellers across Switzerland.

The next big step in terms of the Arcplace portfolio is to offer clients the possibility to get all Arcplace solutions as either in-house, hybrid or public cloud offerings. This process has already started with the launch of several new Cloud Services such as Cloud Backup, Cloud Email Archiving and Cloud Document Archiving.

“After 5 years in the market it is good to see that our strategy to focus on the deployment of solutions to manage and archive information has succeeded. This has allowed us to grow an exciting customer and partner base,” concludes Robbert Spierings. “We are continually grateful for the trust our clients, suppliers and partners have placed in us and we are looking forward to our continuing growth in this rapidly developing market”.

Today Arcplace’s client list includes clients from markets such as: financial services, the chemical industry, manufacturing, retail, IT and telecommunications, business consulting, public sector, pharmaceutical and food and beverage. Arcplace’s portfolio is suitable for small and mid-size companies as well as large enterprises.
