Symantec nominates Arcplace for 'Innovation Partner of the Year 2014'

The Swiss IT service provider Arcplace convinces customers through innovative and efficient solutions in the field of digital archiving of business data. This specialisation has now been recognised by the software company Symantec.

Zurich, June 25th, 2014

As part of this year's 'Symantec Partner Insight Day' on June 17th, Symantec has awarded a diverse range of partners and distributors in various categories. The award of 'Innovation Partner of the Year' went to Zurich based Arcplace AG. Arcplace provides highly efficient business solutions tailored to the specific needs of customers and offers extensive services, all from one source. Frank Thonüs, Manager of Symantec Switzerland, stated at the event: »Only with the best partners we can meet the high demands of our customers.«

Arcplace AG, a partner of Symantec since 2006 supports clients in the implementation and operation of solutions for the archiving business data, such as emails. For many years, Arcplace has utilized the software 'Enterprise Vault' from Symantec. The solution addresses the needs of optimization as well as the relief of productive systems and meets the requirements of a legally compliant archive. There are many flexible implementation models: either directly at the customer (in-house) or as a managed service, all operating within the ISO 27001 standard for information security.
